

Undergraduates Enrolling In PSY 110 And Above

September 2004

Only students who have achieved full major (not pre-major) status may enroll in Psychology courses 110 and above (Students can receive major verification from the Undergraduate Office). Instructors may not use add codes to add students without full major status to these classes. Students ineligible for courses will be administratively removed from enrollment. Examinations and graded assignments may be administered only to students enrolled in the class.
